The draft guidelines were distributed to participants prior to the meeting.

It was agreed by all that this is an extraordinary document. The following comments were received.

Skłodowski suggested that long-term monitoring (controls) be added.

Humo made the following suggestions:

- Add a check list at the end of the document
- Have a more detail on the explanatory report in order to present work clearly to the client. Explanatory report should also be placed at the beginning of the document.
- The Guidelines should help with country codes concerning seismic issues
- Page 7 historical research – use the term “historic” rather than “historical”
- Section 4.5 – who is to judge about what is low, medium or high intervention?

Humo submitted a hand-written mark up of his review of the document that has been provided to Chairman Roca.

Rihal commented that the draft guidelines are a great document and very rigorous. He offered the following comments:

- Monitoring is extremely important.
- Nonstructural components should also be included because they become damaged and cause damage during seismic events.
- An experience and knowledge base should be established
- Patterns of damage caused by natural actions are very important and would be a welcome addition to the guidelines.

Sofronie commented that this is a dynamic area that needs continuing renewal, and the guidelines will need to be continuously revised.
